

These photographs were taken from Iryna Dmytriyeveva's social media, others by sources so noted.

Her name was Elizaveta Dmytriyeveva, but her family called her "Liza" and she was beloved by all, especially by her adoring mother Iryna. Another of her loving admirers was Olena Zelensky, Ukraine's First Lady, who was deeply shaken by Liza's murder (as were millions more worldwide when the lower right photograph showing the scene of her death was published).

"Today we were all horrified by a photo of an overturned baby carriage from Vinnytsya. And then, reading the news, I realized that I know this girl. I will not write all the words I want to, to those who killed her. I will write to you about her." "We met while recording a video for Christmas holidays. I am crying with her loved ones."
